THE FARMER.

There is a farmer who is y y
Enough to take his ee,
And study nature with his ii
And think of what he ee.

He hears the chatter of the jj
As they each other ii,
And sees than when a tree dkk
It makes a home for bb.

A yoke of oxen he will uu
With many haws and gg,
And their mistakes he will xqq
When plowing for his pp.

He little buys, but much he sells,
And therefore little oo;
And when he hoes his soil by spells,
He also soils his hose.

THE Y. M. C. A.

What That Institution is Doing For Maysville Young Men.

Men's Rally at Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon will be conducted by Rev. F. W. Harrop. The hour is 4 o'clock, and all men are invited.

The October magazines are to be found on the reading-room table and a large number of daily and weekly newspapers. Remember, this is a fine privilege and is the only well-stocked free reading-room in the city. The most popular new game of 1900, "Crolard," has been added to the gameroom, and you are invited to inspect it at your leisure. It is fascinating, entertaining and amusing.

No Relief for 20 Years.

"I had bronchitis for twenty years," said Mrs. Minerva Smith of Danville, Ill., "and at times have been bedfast. I never got relief until I had taken Foley's Honey and Tar. It is the pleasant and gives quick relief, and is a sure cure for throat and lung diseases." Take nothing else. J. Jas. Wood & Son and Armstrong & Co.

"LOVE FINDS THE WAY."

Clark County Couple Drove Many Miles to Marry in Maysville.

Mr. Oliver Berryman, aged 21, of Bloomingdale, and Miss Rebecca D. Haggard, aged 21, of Clark county, were married at the Clerk's office yesterday afternoon at 1:30 by Judge C. D. Newell.

They had a somewhat eventful trip, having left home Thursday.

Passing Mt. Sterling they took the wrong pike, a fact not ascertained until they reached Owensville, which threw them about fourteen miles out of their way. Yesterday morning they took a fresh start, coming by way of Wyoming to Flemingsburg, and when they reached the latter place, their horse gave out. Nothing daunted, however, they left the disabled animal, secured a fresh one, and shortly after 1 o'clock reached this city, only to find that Missie Beasley no longer presided over the matrimonial bureau at Aberdeen.

Both parties being of age, however, they had no difficulty in securing a license, and Judge Newell soon made them happy for life.

Notwithstanding the early impediments in their matrimonial path, the voyage of life should be smooth, at least for the groom, who ought to be happy in the possession of one of the handsomest of women for a wife.

How Bright's Disease Starts.

Indigestion, biliousness, blood poisoned with urea and uric acid (which should have been excreted by the kidneys), rheumatic pains in nerves and joints, causing irritation of the kidneys, then pains over the small of the back, mark sure approach of Bright's disease. Do not delay taking Foley's Kidney Cure, for it makes the kidneys right. J. Jas. Wood & Son and Armstrong & Co.

DUKE TAYLOR.

The Direct Cause of His Death at Kansas City Unknown.

THE LEDGER Tuesday mentioned the death at Kansas City of Mr. Duke Taylor, formerly of this county.

A Kansas City paper says the direct cause of his death is unknown, as no person was present at the time the accident happened at the commission house of B. F. Combs & Bro., but it is believed that his skull was crushed by the falling of a heavy timber from the top of the elevator shaft where it had been used to support the machinery, as this piece was found on the floor of the elevator at the time the accident was discovered.

Deceased was born near this city and was 56 years of age.

He served in the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry during the Civil War on the staff of the Colonel of that Regiment.

In 1885 he moved to Missouri.

His wife and one child, a daughter four years of age, survive.

Regarding the death of Mr. Taylor, Judge Thomas R. Phister is in receipt of the following letter from ex-Governor Thomas T. Crittenden of Missouri:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 26th, 1900.

Hon. T. R. Phister, Maysville, Ky.—

Dear Phister: I enclose you a notice that explains itself. I deeply regret Duke Taylor's death. I knew him well and liked him very much. He and I were alike Kentuckians and naturally drifted together. He and his little daughter called at my house last Sunday morning. He called to see my son Tom and myself about some job work. I think Tom engaged him to build one or more houses. Duke was a good carpenter, always an honest man, doing honest work for me the latter part of this week in and about our house. Alas! how little we know of this life. We certainly know not what a day nor an hour may bring forth. We bargain today; we are buried tomorrow.

"And the flower that smiles today, Tomorrow may be dying."

I fear Duke has left nothing but a good name for his widow and child. He delighted in talking about his army life, Mason county and his life in Kentucky. We had a pleasant talk Sunday morning about Mason county and its old inhabitants. He spoke highly of your father, and said William H. Wadsworth was the greatest man and the best lawyer he ever knew. Yours truly,

THOMAS T. CRITTENDEN.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured.

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonic known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces the wonderful results in curing cataract. Send for testimonials free.
